22nd Annual President-Elect Session
Women's Health: Women's Rights

Women are emerging as strong advocates and architects of health promotion. Women recognize as prerequisites of health: "peace, shelter, education, food, unions, a stable ecosystem, sustainable resources, social justice and equity." The procurement of women's rights as human rights is the essential basis for equality.

The Role of Non-Profits in Community Organizing

Presider: Jim Mosher

The Role of Non-profits in Community Organizing—Jim Mosher; Christina Nereson; Marilyn Aguirre-Molina; Omowalee Amuleru-Marshall

Community organizing and media advocacy have become accepted strategies as communities struggle to find ways to prevent alcohol and other drug problems. As the alcohol field matures different models of organizing have come to the forefront and are currently being tested in communities across America. Similarly, case studies exploring media advocacy skills are in process in different parts of the country.

This session examines media advocacy and community organizing strategies as well as the role that non-profit organizations have in their implementation.

A Tour of Washington's Local Community Health Service Facilities

Washington is not only the Nation's Capital. Washington is the home community of 600,000 people, and the hub of a metropolitan area of over 3 million residents. Join the Metropolitan Washington Public Health Association, the host affiliate of APHA, in visiting some of the community's unique public health services. We will visit such facilities as the Health Care for the Homeless, The Washington Free Clinic, the new ambulatory and emergency service of D.C. General Hospital, the injury prevention service of Children's Hospital and others. A modest fee for transportation may be required.

Sign up for a tour by writing: Metropolitan Washington Public Health Association, P.O. Box 4843, Washington, DC 20008, or register at the MWPHA Booth #109 in the Exhibit Hall.

From Models to Mobilizing Resources for Community-Based Planning

Presenter: Claude H. Hall, Jr., MA, MHA, Project Director; John T. Friedman, Manager of Communications

This intensive session will offer practical training in the coordination of assessment and planning efforts on the community level using APEX*PH*, PATCH, and Healthy Communities 2000: Model Standards. The workshop will describe each of the planning tools and offer evaluations of their uses and particular strengths. Guidance will be offered on how each local health agencies can employ the tools to meet their specific needs and organizational circumstances. A workbook will be provided that can serve as a companion supplement to this workshop or be used as a stand alone training guide. The session will describe how this training can be offered and organized on the state level using a Resource Network and the staff of the Model Standards Project.
